

Viewing RSS Feeds With Internet Explorer

Your PC must be running Version 7 or later of Internet Explorer in order to use RSS feeds. Furthermore, IE7 is only supported on Windows XP and Vista. It will not run on older versions of Windows.

When using IE7 to view a web page that supports an alternative RSS format, an orange-colored icon will appear in the Explorer toolbar.

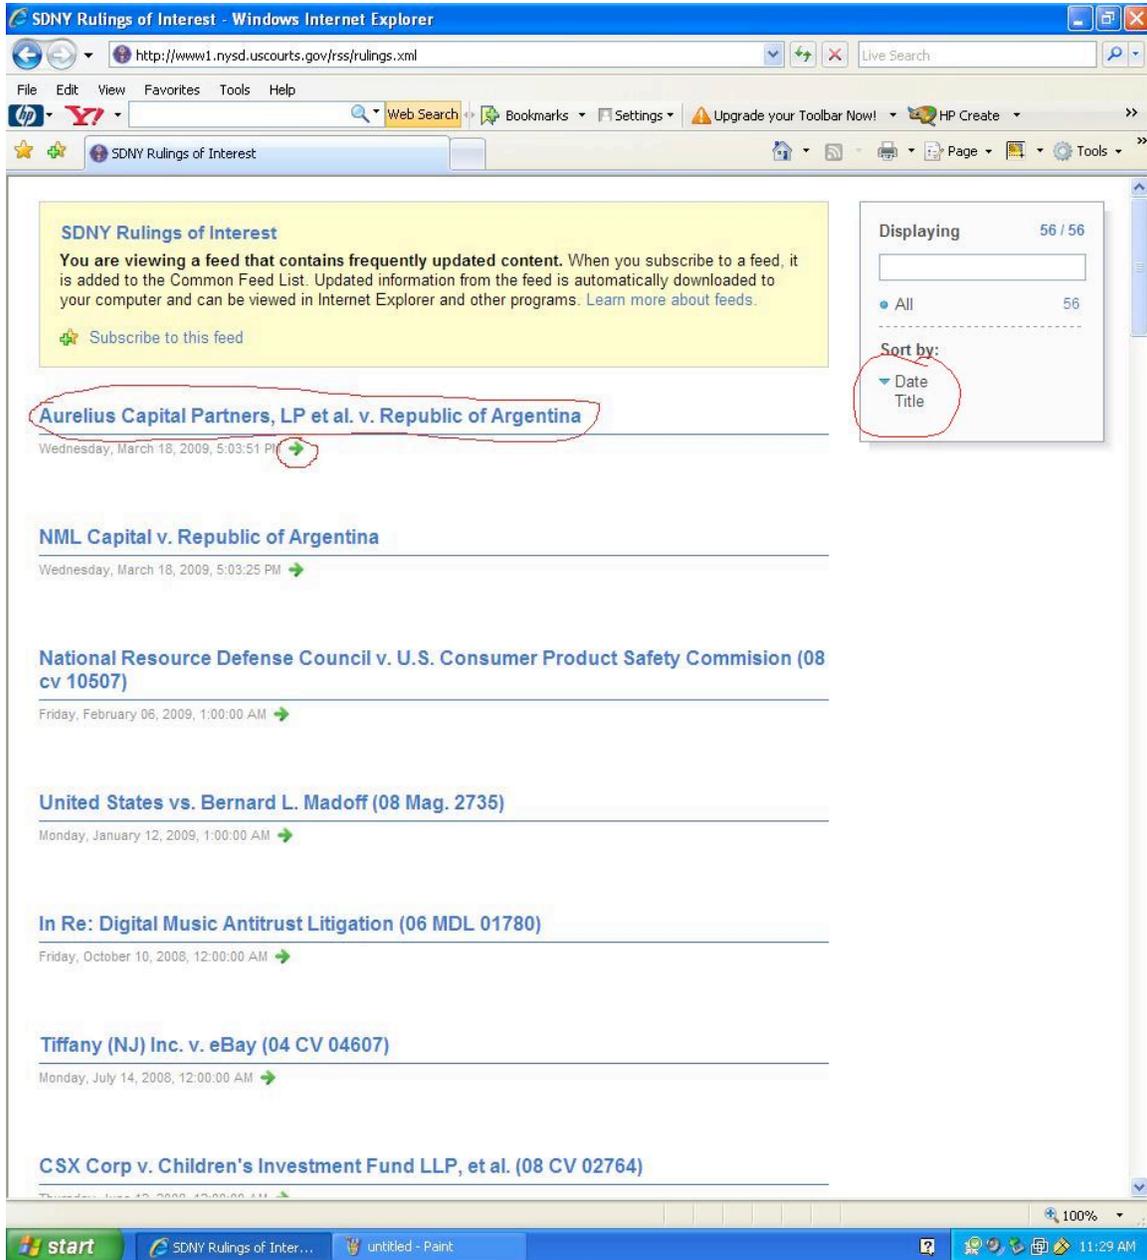

The screenshot shows the Internet Explorer 7 browser window displaying the website for the U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York. The address bar shows the URL <http://www1.nysd.uscourts.gov/cases.php?form=rulings>. The browser's toolbar includes an orange RSS icon, which is highlighted by a red circle. A tooltip is visible over the RSS icon, stating: "View Feeds on this page (Alt+J) Feeds provide updated website content".

The website content includes the following sections:

- Welcome to the Southern District of New York
- Rulings of Special Interest
 - March 18th, 2009 (05 CV 02434): NML Capital v. Republic of Argentina
 - March 12th, 2009 (07 CV 02715): Aurelius Capital Partners, LP et al. v. Republic of Argentina
 - February 6th, 2009 (08 CV 10507): National Resource Defense Council v. U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission
 - January 12th, 2009 (08 Mag. 2735): United States vs. Bernard L. Madoff
 - October 10th, 2008 (07 CV 08455): Madison Square Gardens, L.P. v. National Hockey League
 - October 10th, 2008 (06 MDL 01780): In Re: Digital Music Antitrust Litigation
 - July 14th, 2008 (04 CV 04607): Tiffany (NJ) Inc. v. eBay
 - June 12th, 2008 (08 CV 02764): CSX Corp v. Children's Investment Fund LLP, et al.
- ECF Login
- Public Access to Court Electronic Records (PACER)

PACER is an electronic service that allows public users to view documents that have been filed with the District Court....more
- Most Recently Amended Practices
 - March 9th, 2009: Judge Cathy Saibel, Individual Rules of Practice
 - March 3rd, 2009: Judge Paul G. Gardephe, Individual Rules of Practice for Criminal Cases
 - March 2nd, 2009: Judge Laura Taylor Swain, Individual Rules of Practice

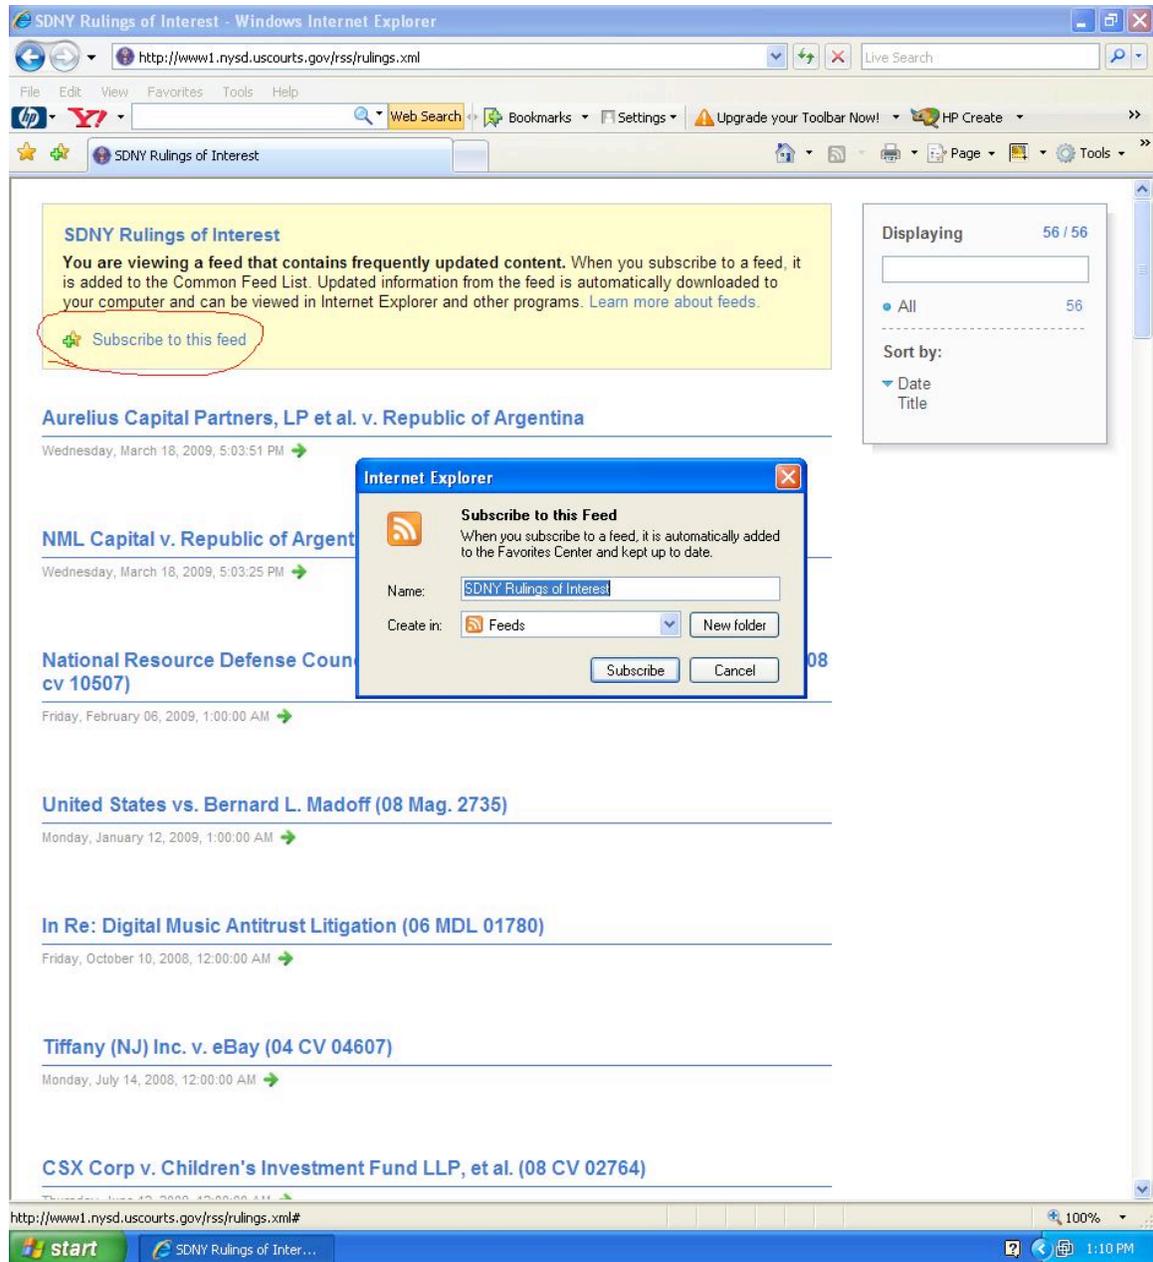

Clicking on that orange icon will cause the page to be redisplayed in its alternative, RSS style. When viewed in this latter manner the individual news items on the page may be sorted in either ascending or descending order via the “Date” and “Title” command links at the right edge of the page.

By clicking on either the boldface title of any article or on the right-arrow icon that appears directly below the title, your browser will show you the complete text of the news article. In the case where the article relates to an order of an opinion of the court your browser will open a copy of the order or opinion in PDF format. (Screen photo of order omitted for brevity.)

Subscribing To An RSS Feed Using Internet Explorer, Version 7

By the term subscribe we mean that your browser will bookmark the RSS-format page and will automatically reload it at periodic intervals in search of newly published information.

By clicking on the “Subscribe to this feed” hyperlink you will direct IE7 to both bookmark the RSS-format web page and to reload it at fixed periodic intervals.

Upon successfully subscribing to a feed you may control the frequency with which IE7 will return to it in search of new information by clicking on the “View feed properties” hyperlink at the right edge of the page.
